IN THE OLD EAST ROOM.

Preparations About Complete For Marriage of Miss Roosevelt.

WILL GO TO FLORIDA.

The "Princess" Will Be Handsomely Gowned for the Occasion.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The arrangements for the marriage in the white house have about been completed.

The wedding of Miss Alice Roosevelt, representative of the president, will take place at the white house at noon Saturday, February 17. The ceremony which will be performed in the historic east room, will be solemnized by Rt. Rev. Henry Y. Satterlee, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Washington.

There will be no bridesmaids.

The groom's best man will be Thomas Nelson Perkins of Boston, a classmate and longtime friend.

Three of Mr. Longworth's classmates and a college mate at Harvard, B. A. Washington, Jr., of Cincinnati, who married Mr. Longworth's oldest sister, Lillian Anderson, of Washington, granddaughter of Nicholas Longworth, the founder of the Longworth family fortune; Viscount Charles De Chambrun, brother of Count Adelbert De Chambrun, who married the groom's youngest sister, and Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., the oldest son of the president, will be the ushers.

The Wedding Invitations.

One thousand invitations to the wedding have been issued. Those invited exclusive of the wedding party include the members of the cabinet and their wives, former members of the cabinet who are now in the United States Senate and their wives, and heads of the foreign embassies and missions and their wives, the official members of the party which accompanied Secretary Taft to the Orient, the Ohio delegation in congress, and the New York delegation in congress.

Late in the afternoon Mr. Longworth and his bride will be en route on a trip to Florida, traveling in a special car. After the adjournment of congress they expect to make a trip to Europe.

Miss Alice Roosevelt will not be the only handsomely gowned woman at her wedding.

As far as the history of weddings in this country have there been such preparations for respondent gowns.

The dressmakers of five cities—Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston—say that never before in their experience have such elaborate and costly gowns been planned with them.

Society women like Mrs. John Jacob Astor are combining their wealth and taste and the art of the most skillful dressmakers to be as beautifully gowned as possible for Miss Alice's wedding.

As the wedding is already taxed how to dispense of the great mass of wedding gifts, just what Miss Alice is to do with them in the house which she is to occupy as Mrs. Longworth is difficult to decide.

Police Items.

In the past four days the police had made five arrests, as follows:

John Myers, col., breach of the peace.

A white man for drunkenness, George Ratcliffe, col., carrying concealed deadly weapons.

Frank M. Goodwin, col., jumping from moving train.

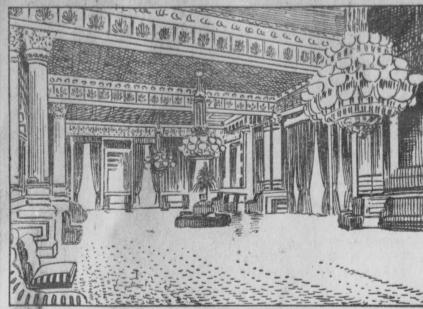

Henry Orndorf, col., breach of the peace.

McKenzie, Ky., Feb. 13.—Mr. Harvey Hunt and Mrs. S. H. Cannon, both of this place, went over to Nashville yesterday morning and were married upon arrival there.

Mr. Hunt is a well known young man and his bride is a charming and unusually pretty young widow, in her twenty-fives. They returned the following day, but will move to Mt. Juliet, Tenn., seventeen miles from Nashville, to make their home.

The wedding leaves another popular young bachelor in a very disconsolate state of mind.

MAGNIFICENT EAST ROOM OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

In which the Longworth-Roosevelt Marriage Ceremony Occurs.

This magnificent room has been the scene of many brilliant social functions extending over a period of many years since the rebuilding of the White House in 1817. It is here the president's receptions are held, and it is in this room that the most important White House weddings have occurred, the room being handsomely decorated for those occasions, and especially was this true at the time of the marriage of the daughter of President Grant. It is magnificent in proportions, as well as in decoration, being 90 feet

An Explanation.

In our issue of Tuesday we stated that the county committee had aranged with the Imperial Tobacco

Company for members of the Association to sell and deliver their tobacco to that company. Chairman

Radford says that this trade does not yet include this county and is in force only in Robertson and Montgomery counties, though by fall such a trade may be established in

Other Counties. Mr. Radford also says that he does not understand his remarks at Monday's meeting in regard to disposing of the supply of lugs. He says that the Association had an offer for all the lug crop, but the committee did not accept the offer. Farmers will govern themselves accordingly on the two points above mentioned until further officially advised.

Empire Operator Gets Both Legs Broken By a Train.

HIS NAME WAS LeGATE.

It Is Not Thought That the Injuries Will Prove Fatal.

Crofton, Ky., Feb. 14.—Hendrix LeGate, telegraph operator at New Empire, was found lying near the railroad track in Mannington last night about 11 o'clock, with both legs broken and one foot minus three toes.

The supposition is that he fell, in attempting to board a freight train for the purpose of returning home where he works as night operator. His right leg was broken near the hip and the left limb was fractured below the knee. It is thought he will lose one leg. LeGate was brought to New Empire this morning where he is under the care of surgeons.

RAISES FOUR-LEAF CLOVER.

Amsterdam Professor Has Become an Adept in the Art of Controlling Work of Nature.

Four-leaved clovers may be grown in abundance on lawns or in flower beds. The raising of four-leaved clovers has been made possible by Prof. De Vries, of Amsterdam, who has found a plant bearing six or seven four-leaved clovers, capable of being transplanted. He first sowed them, and since then he has had a new generation each year. Each time he chose his seeds from a fourth of the best plants; that is, from those which had the most four or five-leaved clovers. It was the third generation which began to be rich in the desired form of leaflets, but only with four and five leaflets, and these only in the adult plant. During August and September of the same year he remarked a very few with seven leaflets. At this point he reduced his selection to a severe standard. He chose for his progenitors only those plants having two-thirds of all their leaves with four or more leaflets. But he had discovered a curious fact that much simplified his selection from then on. In sowing clover one may observe that the first leaf of each young and subsequent leaflets have regularly three leaflets. This knowledge made it possible for him to make his selection much more quickly. He had only to choose the young clovers with compound leaves and transplant them from his glass house to his garden, leaving the others to perish. Thus he did not need so many hundred individuals as before, though each year he still selected some thousands of seedlings from their sowing pots. At last, after eight years of effort, the new variety of clover came into existence. Of this crop nearly all young plants had their first leaf compounded, and all, with few exceptions, were five-leaved.

WORLD'S OLDEST INDUSTRY

Salt Diving in the Dead Sea Survival of Ancient Industry—Work Near Jordan's Mouth.

There are in the Holy Land but few industries and these of the most primitive kind, says the Technical World. The awful desolation of the Dead sea, however, which lies nearly 1,300 feet below the level of the Mediterranean, is broken here and there by the salt dunes, whose work is probably as ancient as the human race itself. From remotest antiquity the salt of the Dead sea has been collected and brought to the Jerusalem market, where it is used for curing meat and for domestic purposes. Dead sea water contains over 25 per cent. of solid substance, of which seven per cent. is chloride of sodium, or common salt. It is chloride of magnesium which gives the water its horribly bitter taste, while the chloride of calcium makes it feel smooth and oily to the touch, so that after the very curious sensation of a bath in the Dead sea, the skin retains an oily sensation.

The Dead sea contains no living creature; sea fish put into its waters speedily die. Not a single boat navigates its strange waters nor is there any sign of life, save the isolated parties of salt divers, who scrape and slowly amass their precious glistening heaps of crystal near the mouth of the Jordan. When a sufficient cargo is made ready a long string of camels crosses the desert; and the salt is loaded up into panniers or "shrewers," and taken into Jerusalem, where it finds a ready market.

ORIGIN OF THE HAT BAND.

Reasons for the Plums on the Left Side and Buttons on the Coat Told by Lecturer.

Wilfred Webb, at a meeting of the Windsor and Eaton Scientific and Archaeological Society in London, recently spoke interestingly of the evolution of dress.

From prehistoric drawings it would appear, he said, that our early ancestors were clothed with hair and had little necessity for artificial covering. Judging from primitive races at the present day, clothing was not first adopted as a protection from the weather.

Just as the zoologist learns much concerning the ancestry of animals from the little features which survive in their bodily structure, so can the history of dress be evolved. Starting with the hat, it was shown that the hat band can be traced to a fillet which held in shape a simple piece of cloth. Sometimes this fillet was tied in a bow behind the tail of which survive in the Scotch cap, the sailor hat and the bishop's mitre.

A little bow inside the lining of the hat is the survival of a lac ing which kept the lining in shape, or possibly takes us back to a time when a hat was made by putting a string through holes in a flat piece of leather, and, by tightening it, producing a crown. The plumes in hats are on the left side because in early times the adornments were so big that they would have seriously interfered with the use of the sword if worn on the right. The helmet of the friar is practically identical with those worn by the ancient Greeks.

The large white collar, such as Milton wore, is still in a smaller form worn by the clergymen who preach in Geneva gowns and by Bluecoat boys. Buttons on coats sleeves point to a time when coats were very costly, and it was customary to turn back the sleeves so that they should not be soiled.

Mr. Webb also discussed the origin of the two buttons on the back of the coat, and said he could not satisfactorily reason why in European countries the buttons on men's clothes should be always on the right side and those of the women on the left.

The possible connection between the ornamentation on modern boots and the open work shoes of the Romans was pointed out. The fact that a "clock" means a "gusset" suggested that the ornamentation which we know by the former name may have been originally intended to hide the joins in a stocking when it was made from pieces of cloth.

MOONSTROKE—SEA DANCER

Sailor Relates Yarn of Queer Incident on Long Voyage—Ill from Effects Two Days.

"People laugh at moonstroke," said a sailor. "They call them shellbacks' superstition. I once had a moonstroke, though, and I tell you it was no laughing matter."

"In a full moon, one night in the tropics, I fell asleep on deck. The moon shone directly on me. I lay in a white pool of moonlight. So three hours went by.

"Then, when they woke me, I felt like a man in a dream. My mouth hung open, as it does when I sleep, and I couldn't close it, and I heard my heart beat over the side and I couldn't straighten it up.

"Nor could I understand what people said to me, nor could I obey orders. Voices I hear far away, but they seemed meaningless, unpleasant. I was very drowsy. All I wanted was sleep.

"They worked on me for two days, rubbing me down with cold water and dousing me with castor oil, before they brought me round.

And always, after that, I have been careful never to sleep where the moon's rays could get at me. My moonstroke happened eight years ago, but still at every full moon I am stupid and drowsy, my head droops a little to one side and my mouth tends to hang open.

TOOK PLACE IN BROADWAY

An Incident with a Surprise at the End for One Small Girl Spectator.

It is not only fine ladies in furs and fine but feeble old gentlemen in broadcloth that the policeman pilots safely across the street. He makes way there as well for cripples, countrymen and children, in fact for all who need his help and protection, says the New York Sun.

So there was seen the other day, a tall, slim policeman conveying across Broadway two small children who had been out gathering refuse wood which they were now carrying home for firewood. One of them, a girl of perhaps 12, wore a little old-fashioned shawl and had balanced on her head a bundle as big around as her own body and as long. The other, a boy of nine, carried on his head a bundle of wood likewise as big as himself.

The two came up together, but with the girl as leader, to the big policeman standing on the corner, and he, with no delay at all, but with quite as much attention as he would have shown to anyone, started on with them across the street, holding up a warning hand to drivers, where that was needed, as he went. Probably there could come to his post nobody to whom the big policeman would give kinder and safer care than he did to these two small children carrying the big bundles of wood.

But to some of the passersby the sight of the policeman escorting the two little wood gatherers over so was at least something out of the usual, and a little knot of people, men, women and children out with their mother shopping, gathered on either side of the street to see the incident through.

Close by one of these corners, standing by the curb in the intersecting street, was the handsome and trimly-saddled horse of a mounted policeman, his rider being at that moment dismounted and standing in the street a few feet away, looking after the traffic there.

This horse seemed to become interested in a little girl that was standing there with her mother, and very quietly he moved forward, close to her. And when the policeman on the crossing had finally got the children over and had started back himself, and the people who had been watching him faced around to start on this little girl found the handsome police horse standing there looking at her and with his nose all but touching her coat sleeve.

She certainly was a little startled, but she wasn't scared, and she was pleased, and she stepped back closer to her mother and looked up at her and smiled, and the mother smiled at the little girl and then at the horse, and the two went on together, still smiling and still quite wrought up over this—for them—quite unexpected ending of the incident.

But there are things happening in Broadway all the time, and even the little things may be interesting.

PRESENTATION AT COURT.

Correct Dress Is Absolutely Necessary When Brought Before King of England.

A crowd had assembled to see us start, relates Harper's Bazaar, I fondly imagined it was an admiring crowd; but I soon knew better. Eventually we entered St. James' Park and fell into line among the miles of carriages that stretched along the broad street known as the Mall, which leads up to the palace. Here, too, crowds were assembled, and for over an hour we were entirely at the mercy of the people who gazed at us at the windows and criticised us most cruelly, considering our entire helplessness. Indeed, we were not sorry when our carriage dashed through the gates of the palace and drew up before the main entrance.

To my terror we were invited into a side room where the royal dressers inspected us as a last precaution. We passed muster, fortunately, and then trooped with the crowd up the grand staircase. Half way up we passed one of the queen's pages, who took me from me one of my pink cards, at the same time shooting a keen glance at me to see if I were dressed "according to regulation."

Pattern No. 5533.—A design that is quite simple and at the same time extremely smart is here shown in a development of blue French flannel, trimmed with black braid. Two wide tucks extend from the shoulder, giving the shoulder-shoulder look, so essential just now. The fashionable sleeve is gathered into a close-fitting cuff. All the season's waistlings, such as mohair, albatross, pongee, and all the heavy washable gauzes are suitable to the mode. The medium size will require 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. Sizes 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure.

This pattern will be sent to you on receipt of 10 cents. Address all orders to the Pattern Department of this paper. Be sure to give size and number of pattern wanted. For convenience, write your order on the following coupon:

Discovered by Excavating. British excavations at Grecos are worthily recalled by those carried on by the Italian Archaeological Mission at Herculaneum and at Feste, in the central zone or island, and along the side of the coast. The finds at Herculaneum and other places laid bare is a burial ground from which about 250 skeletons have been removed. Examinations of these remains show the race to have been of Mediterranean origin, and to date back from 17 to 15 centuries before Christ. They are ignorant of cremation, and their dead in sarcophagi of terra cotta. Writing on tablet or terra cotta shows that linear type of writing which preceded that common at Grecos. Paintings taken from hunting incidents and other ornamental works have also been discovered.

Cold Wave.

The weather forecast sent out from Louisville yesterday was as follows: Cold wave to-night. Thursday fair and cold.

PROMPT WORK NEEDED.

The Commercial Club and City Council should both take some action to counteract the bad effects of the prosecution of the business enterprises and educational institutions of the city by Commonwealth's Attorney Smith, for alleged violations by them of certain legal technicalities before they had been in this State long enough to become familiar with Kentucky laws.

The Home Telephone Company is one of the enterprises that has been in Hopkinsville only about eighteen months. Its promoters came from Ohio and have invested large capital here and elsewhere in this State. They deserve encouragement rather than such prosecution as Mr. Smith has inaugurated. Still worse is the case of Lockey's Business College, which opened here a year ago a branch of its main College at Evansville, Ind. It came here to supply a need of the city, being cordially welcomed by our people, and yet before it has been here a year it is sued for failing to put the word "incorporated" on its sign. Such treatment of one of our educational institutions is a reflection upon the whole community. These suits, it is hoped, were filed the very week that our people were trying to get other large corporations to invest their money in Hopkinsville, and our people feel justly indignant at this unexpected obstacle thrown in the way of building up "Greater Hopkinsville."

What is the use of exempting new enterprises from taxation and inviting them to Hopkinsville if they are to be welcomed with broadsides of litigation, designed to extort money in the name of the State, when only $12 out of every $100 finds its way into the public treasury. Resolutions should at once be adopted entreating Mr. Smith to refrain from this kind of prosecution of the enterprises which may be induced to come to Kentucky and especially to our own city. It is to be hoped that Mr. Smith can be induced to dismiss the suits that are calculated to do our city so great harm.

One of the most drastic measures yet proposed to break up "pistol toting," is a bill introduced in the General Assembly to prohibit the use of self-defense by a man who is proven to have had a concealed weapon on his person. This will almost do the work, if it becomes a law.

The Foraker amendment to the Statehood bill provides that the people of both Arizona and New Mexico must by a majority vote approve the consolidation into one State, or the act will become null and void.

In a fight in Monroe county, that arose over a discussion of the guilt of Caleb Powers, a man bearing the very similar name of Calum Powell was shot and killed by James Wright.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and the system, and not the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars to any one who can't be cured. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Rheumatism

is one of the constitutional diseases. It manifests itself in local aches and pains,—inflamed joints and stiff muscles,—but it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires constitutional treatment acting through the blood, and the best is a course of the great medicine

Representative W. H. Southall is considering the question of becoming a candidate for railroad commissioner next year, against Mr. Ferguson. The Courier-Journal says: "Mr. Southall is one of the youngest members of the present General Assembly and already has made a record. This is his first term, but he is now well known and has won his way rapidly. He is a good politician and is well liked in Frankfort."

Judge Corden, a Federal Judge at Tampa, Fla., fined C. R. Hark, editor of the Tampa Herald, $100 and ordered him held in custody until fine was paid because the editor stated in his paper that the Judge held up some gambling cases to sound public opinion. Is this America or Russia.

The divorce convention meets in Washington next week, and a strong representation from forty-two States is expected. The sessions will be held in the Willard Hotel. Gov. Beekman, John D. Carroll, J. Wheeler Campbell and R. W. Miller are designated as the four Kentucky delegates.

Capt. Norman E. Webb, a well known capitalist of Birmingham, Ala., committed suicide while the other members of the family were at breakfast, by sending a bullet through his head before he left the ascribed cause.

Maj. Jon. Thomas, President of the C. & St. L. Railroad, and for many years a prominent railway man died in Nashville Monday, of heart failure. He was 76 years old.

FORMAL ACTION

Thanking Mr. Rash For His Princely Donation.

The ministers of Hopkinsville, at the regular Monday morning session of the Ministerial Association, Feb. 12th, 1906, passed the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, It has come to our knowledge that Mr. Jas. R. Rash, of Earlinton, has within the week just passed, given South Kentucky College the sum of ten thousand dollars, as a memorial of his son, the late Mr. Ben Rash; and

WHEREAS, We, as citizens and ministers of the town, are concerned for our local institutions, and for none more than for the Christian schools of higher education, and

WHEREAS, We, as ministers, are solicitous to see material wealth devoted to moral and spiritual purposes:

RESOLVED, That we express our approbation of the munificent gift of Jas. R. Rash and our admiration of the noble monument which he has erected in perpetual memory of his son.

RESOLVED, That we congratulate most heartily the trustees of the college upon provision for discharge of the debt under which the institution has so long struggled.

RESOLVED, That we congratulate not less sincerely, the whole community, than the cause of Christian education, in this section of the South, upon the help afforded by the gift and example of Mr. Rash, which will doubtless prove a wholesome stimulus to philanthropy.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, published in our local papers, mailed Mr. Rash and furnished the Secretary of the Board of Trustees of South Kentucky College.

OUTSIDERS ANXIOUS

Mr. Clair Is Expected Here
For a Conference
Tomorrow.

Whether or not all people may want to see the great cotton mill plant located here, it seems an assured fact.

From the talk to be heard at almost every street corner and in offices, the project seems to have leaped beyond the grounds of probability and has about landed in the realm of certainty. Men who were supposed to be liable to regard the mills as unworthy of consideration have openly expressed themselves as for it, and many who are able have signified their desire to put some of their money into it. Applications for stock have been made from parties outside, and some of our local capitalists will invest in blocks of stock.

The committee is moving along steadily but quietly, not doing a great deal of talking, but considering carefully every phase of the question, and when it does speak there will be no uncertain ring in what it says. These men, appointed by Dr. Jackson, the President of the Commercial Club, are gentlemen in whom our people have the utmost confidence, and what they may give out to the public in a few days may be relied upon as being just what they represent it to be.

In our last issue we laid before our readers what had been said by some of our leading business men, believing that pro and con opinions were due everyone. We can positively say, as we have stated, we are not setting ourselves up as advisers on such questions. Our business is to give the news and not play the role of exploiter. So far as we can see there is no reason why this great enterprise should not meet with the encouragement of the prime movers it claims it should. On its face it seems just one of the great things that Hopkinsville needs at this point in her history. If the city is to be what we hope it will, this will be another great step in the attainment of other industries to come after it. Why should we not have a large woolen mill as well as a cotton mill? Logically this would be the very next thing to follow.

We understand that Mr. Clair will be in the city tomorrow for another conference. He is not a man to chase shadows or toy with bubbles. His business is to look after the interest of the I. C. the greatest railroad corporation in this country. He is out after business, and being a business man, has perception enough to know this city has men of business capacity. So rest assured that if Mr. Clair and the committee arrive at a thorough understanding something is going to happen."

Negotiations are Pending.

Editor Hopkinsville Kentuckian: Referring to your report of the Farmers Meeting in your issue of the 13th, Will say your report is in some points misleading.

No contract is yet made between the Imperial and the Association.

No member can as yet sell his tobacco loose without authority of the Executive Committee. Negotiations are pending and when any arrangement is effected the farmers will be notified.

FRED
SCHMIDT

Pe-ru-na a Necessity in the Home.

J. B. Alexander, Publisher of the "Fruit and Floral Guide, A Magazine of Horticulture," published in Hartford City, Ind., says of Peruna:

"I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and nose for over ten years. I was treated by many physicians, but grew worse until I was seldom able to go on in cold weather."

"About one year ago I was advised to try Peruna, which I did, and I am now entirely free of the catarrh."

"Peruna is a necessity in our home. We have the first symptoms of a cold we use it and are never afflicted with catarrh."

"I advise all who are afflicted with catarrh to try Peruna. There is a certain nothing equal to it as a catarrh medicine."—J. B. Alexander.

Pe-ru-na is a Systemic Remedy.

Peruna will cure catarrh in one place, it will cure it in any other place, because it is a systemic remedy.

Pe-ru-na Always on Hand.

Mr. Fred Schmid, Lakeview, Erie Co., N. Y., writes:

"I had been a sufferer for more than thirty years with catarrh of the intestines. I had used a great deal of medicine to no avail, so I decided to try Peruna."

"I have now used thirteen bottles and can give you the joyful tidings that I have no more trouble. I always keep Peruna on hand for Pe-ru-na is a sure cure."

SENT TO ASYLUM.

Lelia Smith Adjudged Insane
Second Time.

A woman by the name of Lelia Smith, a native of Hartford, this State, was admitted to the Asylum as a patient for the second time this morning. About 12 years ago she was declared a lunatic and sent to the asylum, and after being there awhile was pronounced sane and released by the superintendent. Going back to her old home she was unable to find her mother and worked for different people. Her mother is supposed to have been sent to the same institution, but there is no proof of this statement. The woman, feeling that her old mental trouble was coming on again went to the asylum and stated her condition and was taken in until a jury could be impaneled and determine whether she was a fit subject.

SOIL FOR ANALYSIS.

Several Samples Sent To State College at Lexington.

J. B. Walker, who was appointed to sample of soil from Christian county farms and send it to the Experiment Station at the State College, Lexington, for analysis, yesterday shipped 12 samples from seven farms, two being taken from some of them. The farmers who were called upon for soil were J. D. Clarke, J. R. Caudle, E. Caudle and G. H. Stowe, of Newstead; J. A. Brown and J. W. Ford, Church Hill; and R. L. Moseley, Casky. The object of analysis is to determine what the soil needs to produce clover, which it is almost impossible to raise of late years.

WHISKEY AND GLOVES

May Send Two Negroes to the Pen.

Two arrests for highway robbery were made last Monday by the sheriff. It seems that a negro by the name of Ben Kendricks was stopped and searched in regular highway robbery style on his way home, near Bell's Station. It is claimed that the robbers were two other negroes bearing the names of Charles Saunders and Arthur Titman. Kendricks only had a pair of gloves and a bottle of whiskey that was considered worth taking. Their value was really nothing, but the manner in which they went into another party's possession, will, if proven, put the negroes in the penitentiary for a while. The supposed robbers are now in jail here.

Mr. H. S. Glessner has gone to Pennsylvania, to be absent a week or more.

* BETHEL NOTES. *

Mr. J. H. Conn, of Oakville, visited his daughter, Miss Cassie, last Sunday.

Miss Narcissus McKee is improving after an attack of tonsilitis.

Miss Janie Garrett spent Friday night, with her aunt, Mrs. D. C. Settle.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Binns took dinner at the college Sunday. Mrs. Binns nee Miss Annie Nance is a former student at this school.

Mr. N. E. Nabb and his son, William Nabb, visited Misses Edward and Hortense Nabb last Saturday.

Miss Bernice Rickman has been sick for several days with a slight attack of pneumonia.

Miss Jean Pollard visited the family of Mr. Will Gary, at Pembroke, from Friday until Monday.

Miss Mary C. Jago is again in town after several days' absence on account of sickness.

Miss Fannie Lu Lacy visited Mrs. Charles McComb, at Pembroke, Saturday and Sunday.

The German students of Bethel and South Kentucky colleges were entertained on the evening of Feb. 10, in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Williams, on South Virginia street. The charming little hostess, Miss Viola Williams, assisted by her sister, Miss Walker, extended to each a cordial welcome, requesting that "Deutsch" be spoken exclusively during the evening. Several special features, in the way of contests, "matchings," adverbs, etc., increased the enjoyment of the reception, all of which were conducted in the foreign tongue. After the above the young ladies were securely veiled and an auction in German in which some of the "Mädchen" brought a million dollars, decided the arrangement of couples for the refreshments. The "Deutsch lunch" was elegantly served, consisting of salad, nut and chocolate courses. At a late hour the merry maidens dispersed with many a "Gute nacht!" said and many a congratulation expressed to the kind hostess, who had so charmingly entertained.

Had Catarrh Thirty Years—Pe-ru-na Cured Him.
Mr. Gustav M. Schmidt, Spring Valley, Ill., writes:
"I had catarrh of the head and throat for over thirty years. It became worse every year."
"About three months ago I commenced to take Peruna and Manalin, and now I am entirely cured of that troublesome sickness. Your medicine is surely a blessing to mankind."

"You can truly say that you have not lived in vain, Doctor, and thank you for the good you have done me. May you enjoy a long life to help suffering humanity."—Gustav M. Schmidt.

Dr. Hartman Makes Personal Use of Pe-ru-na.

In speaking of his own personal use of Peruna, Dr. Hartman says:

"For a number of years my professional duties have compelled me to be much on the road, traveling long distances by rail, night and day, exposed to all kinds of weather, sleeping and eating in different hotel-rooms, and through it all I have preserved myself from any derangement of the body resulting from catching cold."

"At the slightest evidence of a cold, a few doses of Peruna invariably checked it."

Dr. Hartman's Method of Treating Catarrh.

Naturally, when he began the study of medicine he was a farmer boy. He worked up on a farm in Southern Pennsylvania.

He belonged to that industrial, successful class of farmers known as the Pennsylvania Dutch, the best farmers in the world.

It was here that he early learned the lesson of pulling obnoxious things out by the roots.

Dr. Hartman Interested in Farming.

Notwithstanding Dr. Hartman's busy professional career, he still continues to be interested in farming. He is the owner and manager of one of the largest farms in the country, containing 1,000 thousand acres of the best tilled land in the Middle West, and with hundreds of the best blooded percheron horses ever imported or raised in this country.

Dr. Hartman relies upon Peruna entirely in case of sickness in his own family.

At Work on the Farm.—Praises Pe-ru-na.

Geo. H. Thompson, Raleigh, Miss., writes:

"I have been cured of catarrh by your medicines, Peruna and Manalin. I had been affected with catarrh of the stomach and all about all my life, and was taken but every spring and summer."

"I used several kinds of patent medicines, but they did me no good. I then took a treatment under an M. D., which did me but little good. By this time I had got where I could eat nothing but a little soup. I had severe pains, had lost in weight and could do anything."

"I began taking your medicines, Peruna and Manalin. I then weighed 120 pounds, but after taking 17 bottles of Peruna and one bottle of Manalin, I weighed 168 pounds.

"I used Peruna and Manalin on the farm and feel well all of the time. I eat all I want to and my friends say that I look better than ever before. I will ever praise Peruna for its healing power."—Geo. H. Thompson.

METHODISTS TO MEET.

A Great Missionary Meeting
at Greenville, Ky.,
March 13 to 15.

At Greenville, Ky., March 13-15 will be held the annual mid-year meeting of the Louisville Conference Board of Missions, and in addition to the members of the Board, we have invited all the pastors and local preachers, and one delegate from each of our churches in the Owensboro, Princeton and Russellville districts.

The program is strong and comprehensive. Besides a number of the best speakers in the Louisville Conference, we will have with us Bishop E. R. Hendrix, of Kansas City. He will give us two addresses. It will be worth the whole trip to hear Bishop Hendrix. Then Dr. Seth Ward, of Nashville, and Rev. Wm. Court, a missionary in Japan, will be with us.

The good people of Greenville have opened their homes for our entertainment. We ask all Christians to join in prayer for the presence of the spirit.

Yours for the cause of missions,
W. F. LLOYD,
Conference Secretary of Missions.

According to reports in commission and produce circles, storage eggs are having a hard "row to hoe" this winter. The weather has been so favorable to the production of fresh eggs, and the hens have been laying so steadily, that there has been little or no market for stored eggs all winter. Last year and the year before great deal of money was made out of eggs stored in cold storage, when they were cheap, and sold out during the long period of sleet when hens do not lay. This year the winter has been open, and the hens are laying eggs in sufficient quantities to supply the demand. In consequence of this the price of fresh eggs is now about what the price of stored eggs was last year at this time, and stored eggs are selling in the neighborhood of 10 cents a dozen, having cost from 12 to 15 cents. There are from 7,000 to 8,000 cases of eggs held here. There are thirty dozen eggs in each case. It is reported that Chicago has upward of 100,000 cases on hand.

New York is equally as well loaded up, with little or no prospect of selling out, unless there develops shortly a protracted spell of sleet and snow.—Louisville Post.

SOUSA'S BAND

Tabernacle Friday Night, March 2.

"Music soothes the savage breast," according to the poet, and it also stills the crying child, fires the soldier to martial vigor, and inspires man and maiden to sweet thoughts of love and kindred joys. However, a new demonstration of the power of music was given in St. Petersburg, when Souza and his American band played there not long ago.

The morning after the concert a uniformed lackey left a small package at Souza's hotel, and when the bandmaster undid the fastenings, he found a pair of long, white ladies' gloves, and a note addressed to himself, written on creased and perfumed note-paper. It read as follows:

"Dear Mr. Souza:—I had the pleasure of being at your concert last evening and derived great enjoyment from your beautiful music and your playing of it—too much enjoyment by far, I fear, as the accompanying enclosure will testify. I wore the gloves last evening, and feel sure that every lady present went home in the same state. However, I feel sure that my sacrifice was but a small one, in the cause of true art. Rustically, and yet gratefully, yours, OLGA W."

Souza drew forth the gloves, and found that they were split into shreds. He vows that his native gallantry would have forced him to send the enthusiastic lady a new pair of the finest gloves, had she not, with true Russian delicacy, omitted to put her address in the letter. The fair Souza auditors of the future should note the moral of this narrative and take the popular bandmaster at his word.

Years ago it was declared by a celebrated dramatic critic that all of the possible complications had been worked into productions for the stage. Broadhurst strongly refuses this theory in giving to the stage his brightest farce, "Why Smith Left Home." All of the complications in this are new and the lines are sparkling with the purest wit. Differing as it does from all other farces, the action of the play does not depend upon one person, but around each of the twelve characters is thrown some complications to draw them prominently into the story.

John Smith, recently married, who has been greatly annoyed by the continued visits of his wife's relatives is elated over the probable early departure of the last of them when a telegram announces the proposed visit of his wife's uncle and aunt. Their arrival starts the complications which grow more and more tangled until everyone misunderstands and mistrusts everyone else. In addition to the visit of Mrs. Smith's uncle and aunt other visitors begin to arrive until the house is full to overflowing with relatives and friends. In his despair Smith appeals to the cook, who by the way is Secretary of the "Cook Ladies Union" and the President of the "House-working Ladies Protective Association," for assistance and they together devise a plan to rid the house of the unwelcome guests. Through the stupidity of Mrs. Smith's uncle, who has been taken into the scheme, their plans miscarry and still more complications are added to the already tangled state of affairs. Count Von Gugenheim, a wealthy German nobleman, arrives and offers his hand in marriage to the maiden sister of Smith. Just as the wedding is about to take place "Lieber Gott," the count finds that he has "got em twisted" and the wedding is declared off. A day of understanding comes however and all is adjusted.

This roaring farce will be seen at the Opera House to-morrow night. The sale of seats indicates a full house.

DELEGATE DESIGNATED

To Represent Church Hill Grange at State Institute.

The Church Hill Grange has appointed a delegate and alternate to attend the State Institute at Frankfort Feb. 27, 28 and March 1. J. B. Walker is delegate and A. H. Wallace alternate. The institute will probably be more largely attended than any one ever held in the State.

COLOR HOBOES.

Who Broke Out of Jail are Still at Large

Nothing has been heard from the two negro hobos who escaped from the city lock up Sunday night. They probably lost no time in quitting the city. One was in 27 for days for carrying a razor and the other 11 days for jumping a moving train. They had served about half of their time. They saved a heavy scantling across a window, that held the iron bars, using a small saw about eight inches long and half an inch wide. They also used a hot poker to burn the wooden timbers. Their escape was reported at 11:15 p. m. by another prisoner. The hole through which the crawled was about eight by twenty inches.
